Beautiful Pinot Noir from Mornington. Aromas of sour cherry with a lifted raspberry nuance. A little mushroomy character emerges slowly. Light bodied seamlessly integrated palate but with tremendous power driving to a penetrating finish. Savoury chalky finishing acidity keeps it heading in the right direction

Delicate and fine-boned. Strawberry, mint, but also has this fine rosehip tea perfume, a little cedar and cinnamon spice. Fresh and vibrant, the tannin offers a fine white pepper texture, and maybe a light pumice stone grip, and there's also a suggestion of Campari and soda too, The finish is long, well-etched, charming and engaging

Light ruby, hints of purple in the light. Red cherry, sarsaparilla and anise spice aroma. Tightly wound on the palate, red fruits and roses, hints of anise spice are all tightly bound by bright acid and fine, firm tannins. Good length to it and clean to the finish.
